London, &c.

M^y Lord Mayor and the Aldermen, with the Sheriffs, meet at the Guildhall, at Eight of the Clock in the Morning, apparelled in their Violet Gowns lined, and their Cloaks of Scarlet lined, without their Horses.

And when they have been together in the Council-Chamber a certain time, concerning the nomination of certain Persons to be elected, my Lord and the Aldermen come out, and put on their Cloaks in the Orphans Court, and then go down in order to the Hustings-Court; and there being set, Mr. Recorder standeth up and maketh his Obedience, first to my Lord, and then unto the Commons, and declareth unto them wherefore they are assembled together, shewing unto them that it is for the Election of one of the Sheriffs of London and the Sheriff of Middlesex for the year next ensuing, and the confirmation of the other Sheriff nominated by my Lord Mayor, according to his Prerogative, and also for Mr. Chamberlain and other Officers.

But

But my Lord and the Aldermen go up to my Lord's Court, and there remain until the Sheriff be named and chosen, the Door shut to them.

Then Mr. Sheriffs, Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Common-Serjeant, Mr. Town-Clerk, and the Councillors of the City, and other Officers, remain still in the Hustings-Court, to take and receive the Name of him that shall seem by their Indgments freely and with one consent to be nominated and elected, and justly tried out, not only by Voice, but also by Hands, to be Sheriff in the Year following.

Then the Commons go to the election of Mr. Chamberlain, the two Bridgmasters, the Auditors of the City and Bridghouse Accounts, and the Surveyors of Beer and Ale, according to the accustomed manner. That

That done, the Sheriffs, Maſter Chamberlain, Maſter Common Serjeant, Maſter Town-Clerk, the Counſelloꝝ of the City, the two Secondaries, and the Wardens of the head Companies, Maſter Common Crier going before 'em with his Mace, carry the Report to my Lord and the Aldermen of their ſaid Election.

Which Report received, my Lord and the Aldermen come down again to the Huſtings Court, and there being ſet in order and placed, Maſter Recorder ſtandeth up as he did before, and maketh rehearſal of the Names of thoſe whom they have nominated and choſen, asking them whether it be their free Election, yea or no? And they grant, Yea, yea. Then Maſter Recorder giveth them thanks, and ſo they ariſe and depart home.

On Bartholomew - Even, for the Fair in Smithfield.

TH E Aldermen meet my Lord and the Sheriffs, at the Guildhall-Chapel at Two of the Clock after Dinner, in their Violet Gowns lined, and their Horses, without Cloaks, and there hear Evening Prayer; which being done, they take their Horses and ride to Newgate, and so forth of the Gate, entering into the Cloth-Fair, and there make a Proclamation. The Proclamation being made, they ride thro' the Cloth-Fair, and so return back again thro' the Church-Yard of Great St. Bar-tholomews to Aldersgate, and so ride home again to the Lord Mayors house.

On

On St. Bartholomew-day, For Wrestling.

SO many Aldermen as dine with my Lord Mayor and the Sheriffs be apparelled in their Scarlet Gowns lin'd, and after Dinner their Horses brought to them where they dine; And those Aldermen which dine with the Sheriffs ride with them to my Lord's House to accompany him to the Wrestling. Then when the Wrestling is done, they take their Horses and ride back again through the Fair, and so in at Aldersgate and so home again to the said Lord Mayor's House.

The next day, if it be not Sunday, for the Shooting, as upon Bartholomew-day; but if it be Sunday, the Monday following.

ay, For our Lady-day in Southwark.

M^p Lord Mayor and the Embroider'd Cap, dermen meet my Lord, and after the Evening Prayer they ride through the Fair till they come to S. George's Church, and farther to Newington-Bridge, or to S. Thomas of Waterings, to the Stones that point out the Liberties of the City (if it be so their pleasures) and they return back again unto the Bridghouse, and have a Banquet there, and then over the Bridge, and there the Aldermen take their leave of my Lord, and depart the next way every one to his House.

house. And after all is done and my Lord brought home my Lord Mayor's Officers have a Supper made them the Bridge-Masters.

For the Swearing of the Sherriffs upon Michaelmas-Even

What day soever it falleth so many of the Aldermen as be bidden to dinner to either of the Sheriffs, come thither to Breakfast, or else to Drink, at Eight of the Clock in the Morning, in their Cloket Gowns furred, with their Cloak Cloaks furred, brought with them, without Horses.
And if the Sheriff be an Alderman, then they must put on their Cloak, and the Sheriff likewise his Cloak, and so go to the Guildhall between Two of the C

Gray Cloaks: And if the Sheriff be no Alderman, then to come between two of the Aldermen without Cloaks, and the Sheriff in his Livery-Gown and his Hood.
 And after, when he is sworn, then to put on his Violet Gown and Cloak, and his Chain thereon; And the Aldermen must bring him home to his place, with their Cloaks, to Dinner, and so after Dinner take their pleasure.

Upon Michaelmas-day, for the Election of my Lord Mayor.

ALL the Aldermen meet my Lord and the Sheriffs at Eight of the Clock in the morning at Guildhall, in their Scarlet Gowns and their Cloaks furred, and their Horses: And after they have have been a certain time together in the Council-Chamber, they come forth into the Orphans Court and put on their Cloaks, and go in order to the Chapel, there hearing Service and Sermon and my Lord with certain Aldermen receive the Communion.

And then after the Communion ended, and they have conferred, return again into the Council Chamber, and pausing while, return to the place where the Hustings is kept, and being set in order, Master Recorder ariseth up and maketh his Obedience first to my Lord, and after to the Commons, and declareth unto them, That they of old Custom know, that the cause of the Assembly and Meeting together is, for the Election of the Lord Mayor for the Year ensuing; declaring unto them divers Grants from

from the King's Progenitors for their Election from time to time. That done, my Lord and the Aldermen go up into my Lord's Court, and there tarry (the door being shut to them) till the Election be brought to them.
 Then standeth up Master Common Serjeant (the Sheriffs standing on either side of him, and by the Sheriffs Master Chamberlain, Master Town-Clerk, the two Secondaries, and the Counsellors of the City) in the said Hustings - Court before the Commons; And he the said Common Serjeant maketh a Rehearsal of that Master Recorder had spoken to them before, saying, There resteth no more for him to say, but to put them in remembrance, in what order and manner they should use themselves in their Election; that is, How they must the Aldermen must confirm O Which Two being nominate elected and chosen, Master Co mon Serjeant, the Sherif with the rest before named, a certain of the Head Wardens the Chief Companies, go up my Lord and the Aldermen, there present the Names of the Two which the Commons ha nominated in their Election.

Then the Lord Mayor and Aldermen proceed by Scrutiny elect One of those Two Person which the said Commons ha before nominated. Then come down my Lord again to the Ho ings-Court, and he whom th have chosen on his left-hand, a so my Lord and the Aldermen down again in order; but he is chosen sitteth next unto Lord on his left-hand. Then standeth Master Recorder up, and readeth unto them the Names of the Persons whom they have nominated and chosen, of which my Lord and the Aldermen have admitted one, whose Name is N.

Asking them, Whether it be their Election, yea or no? And the Commons answer, Yea, yea.
Then the Sword-bearer taketh his Clippet, and hath it for labour, and putteth on his chain, and the Mayor new elect standeth upon the Hustingscourt, and giveth Thanks, &c.
That being done, the old Mayor likewise give them Thanks, Then they arise up and put their Cloaks, and my Lord Mayor hath the Lord Elect ring with him to the eldest Sheffs to Dinner.

For the presenting of my Lord Elect to the Lord Chancellor (or Lord Keeper.)

Then after Dinner my Lord Elect goeth to my Lord Chancellor (or Lord keeper) he be at home at his place, near unto it, with five or six the Aldermen and Master Recorder with him, in their Robes Gowns, either by Foot or by water, as the dwelling-place of the Chancellor (or Lord Keeper) requireth. The Common Hunt with the extraordinary Officers and those that be at liberty, attend on him.

The morrow after Michaelmas-day for the Sheriffs going to Westminster.

ALl the Aldermen must be at the two Sheriffs Houses the Morning at Eight of the Clock, in their Violet Gowns lined, and their Horses, without Cloaks: But my Lord, Master Recorder and the two Sheriffs must be in their Scarlet Gowns lined, and their Cloaks born to Westminster with them, and so come to the Guildhall, and from thence to the Vinetree, and there taking Barge land at Westminster Bridge, and in the Hall put on their Cloaks, and so go up to the Exchequer; and there the Two New Sheriffs be presented, and the Old sworn to their Account.
Then they put off their Cloaks, and take Barre, landing again the Vinetree, and there take horse and my Lord Mayor rideth to the eldest Sheriffs to Dinner, the Recorder and the Sheriffs ride next my Lord, the two Sheriffs carrying two white Rods in their hands, and their Henchmen going after them.

The Order for Simon and Jude's day.

The old Mayor shall have many of the Aldermen dine with him, come to his place at Eight of the Clock in the Morning, in their Violet Gowns furred, with their Violet Cloaks furred, and Horses, and the Sheriffs to fetch him to the Hall, and there tarry in the Council-Chamber until the new Mayor cometh and the rest of the Aldermen come Hox, and before them: And after they have been together a certain space, come forth into the Orridisham Court, and put on their heribred Cloaks, and go to the in the Kings-Court; and there being in order, the Common Crier maketh Proclamation commanding every Man to keep silence.

and Then Master Town Clerk giveth him his Oath; And when he hath taken his Oath, the old Lord ariseth and giveth the new Lord his place, the old Lord taketh the new Lord's place; and in the Master Chamberlain delivereth first to him the Scepter, next the Keys of the Common Seal, the Seal of the Office of the Lordship; after Master Sword-Chamberlain giveth him the Sword.
 Then they arise and put off their Cloaks, and the old Lord rideth
